

Enabling organizations to operate with their full data potential, anytime and anywhere.

MobiLab's partnership with powercloud supports energy providers to transform into cloud-native organizations to deliver a better customer experience, offer great customer service through all channels, and counteract the threat of customer turnover.

Cloud Integration by MobiLab

MobiLab delivers Cloud Integration at three levels (infrastructure, data, and application layers) to enable energy organizations to operate with their full data potential. Combining our core skills in Cloud Adoption (offering the best cloud platform to energy providers) and Data Integration (one data layer from source to destination) with the market leader powercloud we have the proven basis for the processing and billing of electricity, gas, heat, water and sewage. Cloud Integration

-  Supports your transition into new business models
-  Handles all processing & billing through one layer
-  Helps you to focus on your customers
-  Gives maximum security through the best cloud
-  Saves costs and increases your revenue

Orchestrate Your Data

Orchestrating all these different sources of data (customer-, supplier-, marketing-, and payment-data) can be cumbersome and overwhelming with outdated IT systems. MobiLab's Data Integration Platform sits on top of your current landscape and works seamlessly with powercloud to have all your data processes in one place. Having a true single point in the data layer allows you to manage your customers faster and better with a higher service level.

Run Your Infrastructure & Data On the Best Cloud

MobiLab offers, with powercloud and Microsoft Azure, the most successful Cloud platform for the energy industry. From running your infrastructure in a Cloud environment to securing cloud governance with the right set of policies, we help you to achieve the best outcome while running on the Cloud.

Why Cloud Integration

-  One digital platform to manage your processes
-  Increase sales by offering more services online
-  Better customer focus and experience
-  Faster time to market new business models
-  Performance, speed & robustness through horizontal and vertical scalability
-  Increase customer loyalty and reduce customer churn

What our customers say

“MobiLab has proven time and again to be customer-centric and focused on fast & value-driven delivery. MobiLab is our preferred solution partner in Cloud Adoption as they help us achieve our mission to empower every person and every organization on the planet to achieve more.”

– Melanie Weber,
Industry Executive
Microsoft GmbH

“MobiLab has supplied us with a swift and user-friendly Cloud Native Service that serves our purpose to disrupt the market with real-time innovations and improve digitalization. They have successfully helped us differentiate our customer's experience, giving us an edge over the competition.”

–Dominik Gertenbach,
Thomas Schönhoff,
CEO stadtenergie GmbH

